

Seen at 'Ming's' birthday bash at the Andaman Sea Guesthouse

With no prize money at stake, teams take part for one reason only, their love of soccer.

How's this little one to end with; The World Scrabble Championships held in London, England, this month will feature as the current holder, Panupol Sujjayakorn, from Thailand. The event is held every two years. What is interesting about this is the 19 year old speaks little conversational English, but has memorised the English dictionary back to front. Most native speakers wouldn't know even half of the dictionary.
