The affable hosts at the Roadhouse Bar & Grill have decided to call it a day and head back to South Africa. Mario and Annette have sold the Roadhouse on to Yury, whose son Max runs The Hole In The Wall restaurant and bar on Rat-U-Thit Rd., in Patong.

We've dropped in there a couple of times since the changeover and each time something else has changed, so Yury is definitely stamping his own personality on the place. He has also taken over the downstairs part that used to be a child-minding centre and has plans for that as well. The Roadhouse is worth a look and if you want, you can have your photo added to the many that are starting to adorn the walls.

Clarets is another place that has changed hands recently and has now been re-opened under the stewardship of Brian. The previous owner, Darren, has finally accepted the simple fact that to make a small fortune here is to start with a large one. He is returning to Australia where he says he can make more money in a day than he'll ever make here.

Geo Guesthouse (Soi Sansabai, Patong) will be undergoing renovations from the 4th July until 19th July. The restaurant will still be open but the rooms won't. It should be interesting to see what Sheila has in mind for the new look there.

With low season here it is time to be a little more careful of your personal belongings. There is less people and correspondingly less money floating around.
