A Trip To "Phuket Fantasea"

A trip to Phuket would not be complete without a visit to "Phuket Fantasea"! This wonderful complex covers a huge area in Kamila.

It includes a selection of gift shops, snack bars, a huge Restaurant that seats some 2,500 people. This Mammoth Entertainment Center built of simulated rock is designed in the traditional Thai style, not unlike some of the well-visited ruins all over the country. The venue is fully air-conditioned with an extremely well organized and choreographed show, a cast of hundreds and a host of animals, some 18 Elephants of varying sizes along with a horse, a tiger, some buffaloes, chickens and doves.

This fantastic show is based on the freeing of Kamala by the young Prince and his trusty Elephant, after a rival army invaded it. Eight huge Elephants participate in the opening scene, along with about 80 cast members in the initial capture of the Princess from the embattled city. The use of lasers and pyrotechnics to enhance the effects of the battle scenes makes for spectacular viewing.

The Princess is subsequently rescued and life settles down to a peaceful normal life style.

In the harvest scene, they use of most of the animals to illustrate a typical Thai farming community in provincial Thailand.

There is a spectacular aerial display by eight young ladies in bungee style harnesses and trapeze swings, suspended from the ceiling of this huge auditorium.

A comedy sketch with supposed Siamese twin congers gave excellent light relief to the rest of this awesome show. David Copperfield himself would have applauded some of the illusions, the standard of the whole show is world class, the sound system leads you to believe the show is all around you. Making the Price of B1200 in the best seats in the house for the 2-hour show, money well spent.

Tickets can be purchased from all travel agents and accommodation outlets on Phuket.

Ten out of ten from this not easily impressed visitor, Thank you Phuket Fantasea!!
