

At the opening of the lobby bar and restaurant at the Andaman Sea Guesthouse, friends turned out to wish 'Ming' and Brett (4th from right) all the best for their new venture. So much for retiring!!

If you are down Karon way over the next few weeks, have a look out for Angus O'Toole's, a new bar, restaurant that is taking shape opposite the Islander Park Resort. Maurice formerly of Beefeaters will be looking after the kitchen and that means that the food on offer will be superb.

Also slowly being put together, this time in Patong is Anton's, a large restaurant at the front of Soi Sea Pearl on the beach side.

Sheila of Sheila's Pies, Longtail Tavern and a host of other enterprises, is putting all her skills into this venture that will augment the rising entertainment status of this part of Patong. Watch out Bangla, it may have the name, but will it keep the people as other areas progress.

The Laguna Phuket Triathlon has been run and won. The annual event was held on the 29th November and was won by Australian Simon thompson from chilly Canberra. It must have been quite a change in weather conditions. Canadian, Carol Montgomery finished first in the women's event.

The Charity Football Competition in aid of the Patong Child Care Centre was a great success on December 5th. The day was won by the team from Amigoes Bar with Football Crazy Bar coming in second.
